Poetry I

Oh Captain! My Captain!

Walt Whitman

O CAPTAIN! my Captain! our fearful trip is done;

The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize
we sought is won;

The port is near, the bells I hear, the people
all exulting,

While follow eyes the steady keel, the vessel
grim and daring:

But O heart! heart! heart!

O the bleeding drops of red,

Where on the deck my Captain lies,

Fallen cold and dead.

O Captain! my Captain! rise up and hear the bells;

Rise up--for you the flag is flung--for you the bugle trills;

For you bouquets and ribbon'd wreaths--for you the shores a-crowding;

For you they call, the swaying mass, their eager faces turning;

Here Captain! dear father!

This arm beneath your head;

It is some dream that on the deck,

You've fallen cold and dead.

Poetry II

The Charge of the Light Brigade

Alfred Lord Tennyson

Half a league, half a league,

Half a league onward,

All in the valley of Death

Rode the six hundred.

"Forward, the Light Brigade!"

"Charge for the guns!" he said:

Into the valley of Death

Rode the six hundred.

"Forward, the Light Brigade!"

Was there a man dismay'd?

Not tho' the soldier knew

Someone had blunder'd:

Theirs not to make reply,

Theirs not to reason why,

Theirs but to do and die:

Into the valley of Death

Rode the six hundred.

Cannon to right of them,

Cannon to left of them,

Cannon in front of them

Volley'd and thunder'd;

Storm'd at with shot and shell,

Boldly they rode and well,

Into the jaws of Death,

Into the mouth of Hell

Rode the six hundred....(CONT.)

Bed in Summer

By Robert Louis Stevenson

*In winter I get up at night
And dress by yellow candle-light.
In summer, quite the other way,
I have to go to bed by day.*

*I have to go to bed and see
The birds still hopping on the tree,
Or hear the grown-up people's feet
Still going past me in the street.*

*And does it not seem hard to you,
When all the sky is clear and blue,
And I should like so much to play,
To have to go to bed by day?*

Poetry II

To the Rhodora, on Whence the Flower

Ralph Waldo Emerson

*In May, when sea-winds pierced our solitudes,
I found the fresh Rhodora in the woods,
Spreading its leafless blooms in a damp nook,
To please the desert and the sluggish brook.*

*The purple petals fallen in the pool
Made the black water with their beauty gay;
Here might the red-bird come his plumes to
cool,
And court the flower that cheapens his array.*

*Rhodora! if the sages ask thee why
This charm is wasted on the earth and sky,
Tell them, dear, that, if eyes were made for seeing,
Then beauty is its own excuse for Being;*

*Why thou wert there, O rival of the rose!
I never thought to ask; I never knew;
But in my simple ignorance suppose
The self-same power that brought me there,
brought you.*

History

10. The Industrial Revolution and the Victorian Era

Industrialization was a process by which People moved to big cities, and some grew quite rich.
In factories laborers worked without rest;
Steel rails and steam engines took many out West.
For millions of immigrants, "huddled and poor,"
A better life lay through America's doors.

11. European Colonization around the World

Quinine and steamships made it less of a gamble
For Colonial powers in Africa's "scramble."
Indigenous tribes of the coast and interior
Were viewed by these empires as being inferior.
An Indian colony was Britain's "crown jewel,"
But Boxers in China fought against foreign rule.

12. World War I: 1914-1918

In Nineteen-fourteen Europe's "Great War" began
With the murder of Austrian Archduke Ferdinand.
Soon Russia, Great Britain, and France became allied Against "Central Powers." (The Germans led that side.)
In 'seventeen Yankees arrived on the scene;
Armistice brought peace in Nineteen eighteen,
World War I left all Europe in shocked devastation,
Woodrow Wilson promoted a new "League of Nations."

13. The Russian Revolution

The Empire of Russia, led by Nicholas the second,
Suffered more in the Great War than leaders had reckoned.
The Czar, greatly weakened, abdicated from power,
It was Vladimir Lenin and the Bolsheviks' hour.
Workers claimed power in a Soviet nation,
But Stalin's dictatorship caused mass starvation.

14. The Great Depression

On October's Black Tuesday, nineteen twenty-nine,
A crashing stock market hailed worldwide decline.
The Dust Bowl, unemployment, and rising inflation
Created hard times across the whole nation.
In thirty-two Roosevelt brought a "New Deal,"
But only through war did the economy heal.

15. World War II: 1939-1945

Nazi troops entered Poland in nineteen thirty-nine -
Now Britain and France had to draw the line.
The Allies and Axis were headed to war,
A war far more deadly than any before.
In forty-one US troops entered to fight Against Germany and Japan with all their might.
An Atom bomb dropped in nineteen-forty five
At Hiroshima meant the war's end had arrived.

16. The Cold War

With Eastern bloc states behind Russia's Iron Curtain,
A nuclear arms race made world peace uncertain.
The Cold War was waged in ways mostly quite silent,
In Korea and Vietnam the struggle was violent.
Democracy, free speech, and a free market place,
Were ideas the Communists didn't embrace.
Both sides looked to space as a vast new frontier;
Neil Armstrong's great leap on the moon made us cheer!

17. The Civil Rights Movement

In Ireland, India, and African Nations,
Independence and statehood replaced colonization.
Inspired by Ghandi's non-violent fight,
Reverend King led a movement for civil rights.
Boycotts and protests against segregation
Changed America's laws on discrimination.

18. Berlin Wall Falls: 1989

Solidarity in Poland gave people great hope,
Encouraged by John Paul, the first Polish pope.
Reagan said, "Gorbachev, tear down this wall!"
The Autumn of Nations brought Communist fall.
In nineteen eighty-nine the Berlin wall came down,
Soon the USSR could no longer be found.

Poetry I

Oh Captain! My Captain!

Walt Whitman

O CAPTAIN! my Captain! our fearful trip is done;
The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won;
The port is near, the bells I hear, the people all exulting,
While follow eyes the steady keel, the vessel grim and daring:
But O heart! heart! heart!
O the bleeding drops of red,
Where on the deck my Captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead.

O Captain! my Captain! rise up and hear the bells;
Rise up--for you the flag is flung--for you the bugle trills;
For you bouquets and ribbon'd wreaths--for you the shores a-crowding;
For you they call, the swaying mass, their eager faces turning;
Here Captain! dear father!
This arm beneath your head;
It is some dream that on the deck,
You've fallen cold and dead.

My Captain does not answer, his lips are pale and still;
My father does not feel my arm, he has no pulse nor will;

The ship is anchor'd safe and sound, its voyage closed and done;
From fearful trip, the victor ship, comes in with object won;
Exult, O shores, and ring, O bells!
But I, with mournful tread,
Walk the deck my Captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead.

Bed in Summer

By Robert Louis Stevenson

In winter I get up at night
And dress by yellow candle-light.
In summer, quite the other way,
I have to go to bed by day.

I have to go to bed and see
The birds still hopping on the tree,
Or hear the grown-up people's feet
Still going past me in the street.

And does it not seem hard to you,
When all the sky is clear and blue,
And I should like so much to play,
To have to go to bed by day?

Poetry II

The Charge of the Light Brigade

Alfred Lord Tennyson

Half a league, half a league,
Half a league onward,
All in the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.
"Forward, the Light Brigade!
"Charge for the guns!" he said:
Into the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.

"Forward, the Light Brigade!"
Was there a man dismay'd?
Not tho' the soldier knew
Someone had blunder'd:
Theirs not to make reply,
Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs but to do and die:
Into the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.

Cannon to right of them,
Cannon to left of them,
Cannon in front of them
Volley'd and thunder'd;
Storm'd at with shot and shell,
Boldly they rode and well,
Into the jaws of Death,
Into the mouth of Hell
Rode the six hundred.

Flash'd all their sabres bare,
Flash'd as they turn'd in air,
Sabring the gunners there,
Charging an army, while
All the world wonder'd:
Plunged in the battery-smoke
Right thro' the line they broke;
Cossack and Russian
Reel'd from the sabre stroke
Shatter'd and sunder'd.
Then they rode back, but not
Not the six hundred.

Cannon to right of them,
Cannon to left of them,
Cannon behind them
Volley'd and thunder'd;
Storm'd at with shot and shell,
While horse and hero fell,
They that had fought so well
Came thro' the jaws of Death
Back from the mouth of Hell,
All that was left of them,
Left of six hundred.

When can their glory fade?
O the wild charge they made!
All the world wondered.
Honour the charge they made,
Honour the Light Brigade,
Noble six hundred.

To the Rhodora, on Whence the Flower
Ralph Waldo Emerson

In May, when sea-winds pierced our solitudes,
I found the fresh Rhodora in the woods,
Spreading its leafless blooms in a damp nook,
To please the desert and the sluggish brook.

The purple petals fallen in the pool
Made the black water with their beauty gay;
Here might the red-bird come his plumes to
cool,
And court the flower that cheapens his array.

Rhodora! if the sages ask thee why
This charm is wasted on the earth and sky,
Tell them, dear, that, if eyes were made for
seeing,
Then beauty is its own excuse for Being;

Why thou wert there, O rival of the rose!
I never thought to ask; I never knew;
But in my simple ignorance suppose
The self-same power that brought me there,
brought you.
